

Conversation Questions

1. Jesus commands us to love our enemies and pray for those who persecute us. Why do you think prayer is the first action that Jesus calls us to take? How have you experienced prayer changing your perspective or your heart in difficult relationships in the past?
2. What would it look like for you to let God, rather than your wounds, write your response to someone who has hurt you?
3. How can followers of Jesus better balance forgiveness, compassion, and wisdom in difficult relationships? How have you seen it play out well in your life when it has?
4. Who immediately comes to mind when you hear the phrase "love your enemies" and what is one practical step you can take this week to show kindness or pray for that person or both?
